

First State Bank

Important Customer Update:

We are in the process of updating our email communications to provide our customers with more timely access to electronic statements. During this update, customers may receive multiple emails regarding past electronic bank statements. We apologize for this inconvenience but assure you there's no reason to be alarmed.

Your community bank.

